A Note from Mrs. Wordelman ...

Another year is quickly becoming a memory! Thank you for the privilege of sharing the gifts of your children with us. It has been an honor to work with the students of St. Joseph Catholic School and their families this year.

We have some very sad news to share. Michael Ford, a former student of ours, passed away this weekend. Michael was an exemplary student. He graduated from Jesuit in 2008. He was truly a scholar athlete—always respectful and joyful. His integrity was visible in everything he did. As a staff, we feel a tragic loss. Our prayers and thoughts are with Lori and Dave Ford and their other children, Theresa, John, Clare, and Katherine.

Enclosed in this envelope is the five year strategic plan adopted by the CSAC last month. The plan details nine areas of the school and the one-year objectives to be met next year. I look forward to working with the CSAC and its subcommittees to accomplish these goals. A big thank you to Bridget Piziali and Melissa Thurmon who have volunteered to work on the next leg of the strategic planning process—communication. Any other individuals with experience in marketing, layout, web design, etc., are invited to call the office for more details.

In an effort to help students stay fresh with math facts and reading skills, the teachers are sending home summer work packets. All of the material is review in nature. As a staff, we felt that the packets are service to our families to help our students over the summer. Should a parent choose not have his or her student complete the packet, simply initial the packet and return on the first day of school, without penalty. Our hope is that in September, students will be able to soar academically. Packets are due back to next year's homeroom teacher on the day students return to school.

Summer is upon us. Please take time to just "be" with your families. Sometimes the gift of time is short—as it was for Michael Ford.

Many blessings to you and your families,

Mrs. Wordelman
